ROSES -- $200

B. red, red

The poem by Scottish poet Robert
Burns begins with the lines:

“O my Luve is like a red, red rose
That’s newly sprung in June;
O my Luve is like the melody
That’s sweetly played in tune.”

Thank you for purchasing this trivia game! Just a few things before you play:

- Game instructions are included in the folder.
- The header font is KG Blank Space Solid. Download the font
- All dollar amounts on the Game Board (slide 3) are editable.
- All headers and question/answer text is editable. Feel free to edit as you see fit!
- Most images are editable because they are public domain.
- There is a Notes area of each slide.
- If you exit the game during play (hit ESC), the game will restart.
- Please do not post this game anywhere online, record it, or use it commercially in any way (e.g., Outschool).

Valentine's Day Trivia Game

HOW TO PLAY THIS GAME:

1. No prep needed! You can play this game straight out of the box!
2. Divide students into 4-5 teams. I usually have the teams move desks so they can confer on answers.
3. Keep score on a whiteboard (teacher or student volunteer), or ask one person on each team to keep track of the scores.
4. Team 1 picks a category and dollar amount. Click the question. If the team answers correctly, they "win" that dollar amount.
5. If Team 1 answers incorrectly, Team 2 will get a chance to "steal" the question. If Team 2 answers the question correctly, Team 2 wins that dollar amount and gets to choose another question.
6. If Team 2 answers incorrectly, the question is thrown out. Team 2 gets to choose a new question.
7. Continue to play until all the questions have been selected or class time is over. The team with the most money scored wins!
8. Possible prizes: candy/treats (the...
