CANDY $300

C. Gelatin

Water, sweeteners, flavors, and colors are also major ingredients.

Gelatin is a protein derived from animal tissues. Gelatin itself is tasteless and colorless, so sugars, flavors, and colors must be added to make candy.

NO PREP NEEDED!

HOW TO PLAY THIS GAME:

1. No prep needed! You can play this game "straight out of the box"!
 2. Divide students into 4-5 teams. I usually have the teams move desks so they can confer on answers.
 3. Keep score on a whiteboard (teacher or student volunteer), or ask one person on each team to keep track of the scores.
 4. Team 1 picks a category and dollar amount. Click the question. If the team answers correctly, they "win" that dollar amount.
 5. If Team 1 answers incorrectly, they lose the dollar amount.
 6. Click "Back to Game Board" to return to the game board.
 7. Team 2 chooses the next question from the game board.
- ...all the questions have been selected or class ... and wins!

Not sure how to play? I included step-by-step instructions for game play. No prep needed!
